AWARDS & ACCOLADES

2015 ~ 96 Points. "The 2015 Amarone della Valpolicella Classico Riserva Ca' Florian is a total pleasure on the nose, as a rush of sweet cinnamon, clove and vanilla bean embellishes dried black cherries and hints of cocoa powder. Deeply textural and dense, this excels with a silken wave of decadent red fruits offset by a bitter twang of dark chocolate. Brisk acidity maintains an energetic feel as the 2015 finishes structured and classically dry, with hints of spiced citrus and violet inner florals that linger on and on. This is a Riserva Ca' Florian for the ages. Of note, there was no 2014 produced." - Antonio Galloni's Vinous, Dec/2023

2015 ~ 94 Points. "Bright dark ruby with brightening rim. Dense and vivid nose of raisins, blackberry jelly, leather and a touch of eucalyptus. Velvety notion on the palate, spreads across, opulent and deep with concentrated fruit, very long in the finish." - Othmar Kiem & Simon Staffler - Falstaff, Dec/2023

2015 ~ 93 Points. "French barriques are used for the single vineyards here, but only for the maximum of one year, 'to fix the colour'. Thereafter, there is a transition to Slavonian oak to complete the mandatory four years. Yet one cannot escape the cinnamon-cedar-nutmeg tannin profile of the barriques. Lovely material behind. Sweet cherry, mint, amaro and sassafras, amidst a swirl of glycerol that coats the mouth. The drive is long, firm and powerful, without extraneous sweetness or obvious excess. A style that defines the philosophy here. A very good wine." - James Suckling, Apr/2023

2015 ~ 93 Points. "Fragrant hints of leather and dried flowers offer an enticing entry point for this expressive, long and harmonious red, which layers its silky texture and fine-grained tannins atop a range of warm cherry and plum fruit, orange peel, baking spices and medicinal herbs. Corvina, Corvinone and Rondinella. Drink now through 2035." - Alison Napjus - Wine Spectator, Nov/2024
