TASTING NOTES

Colour:	Deep ruby red.
Aroma:	A broad, complex nose with aromas of blackberry preserve, black pepper, licorice, vanilla and balsamic herbs.
Taste:	Rich and full-bodied, with velvety tannins that are nicely integrated. Well-balanced with nice length and a pleasing sensation of freshness.
Food:	Italian pasta with bolognese sauce, grilled white meats, fresh cheeses.

AWARDS & ACCOLADES

2022 ~ 93 Points. "Savory and structured, showing tobacco, dried herbs and cedar layered over blackcurrants and dark cherries. Medium- to full-bodied with compact, chalky tannins and a firm, lingering finish. Drink or hold." - Adrii Stetsiuk - James Suckling, Jun/2026

2022 ~ 91 Points. "This wine has bold velvety layers that show bing cherry, green bell pepper, and wild herb. The palate feels soft and powerful with its tannins that hold onto flavors of bright cherry, roasted pepper, and savory spice. There is quality and finesse that you experience throughout the wine and fresh acidity makes it less intimidating to drink." - Michael Laudenslager - Wine Enthusiast, Jul/2026

2022 ~ 90 Points. SMART BUY "This red is expressive, offering black currant, blackberry, violet, mineral, tobacco and bell pepper aromas and flavours. Lithe and supple, yet with a line of dense tannins underneath." - Bruce Sanderson - Wine Spectator, Oct/2026

2021 ~ 90 Points. "The nose leads with fruit aromas that are simultaneously astringent and warm, like blackberries glistening in the sun, before spicier notes of cloves and cinnamon gradually emerge. That composed yet compelling balance between fruit and spice continues on the palate, while acid rips through a sticky spiderweb of tannins." - Danielle Callegari - Wine Enthusiast, Dec/2024

OTHER INFO

The "Poggio al Tufo" estate vineyard, owned by the Tommasi family since 1997, comprises 66 hectares (163 acres) in Pitigliano, the heart of the "Maremma Toscana" zone located in southwestern Tuscany. The grapes are picked when slightly overripe. Traditional red wine vinification, with maceration for 12 days. Maturation for 12 months in 70 hl Slavonian oak casks.
