TASTING NOTES

- Colour: Bright ruby.
- Aroma: Perfumed red cherry and strawberry aromas are complicated by minerals and botanical herbs.
- Taste: Medium bodied. Brambly rosemary, thyme and woody spice notes lead to high-toned raspberry, blood orange zest and liquorice flavours.
- Food: Try this with beef brisket, smoked pork or rabbit stew.

AWARDS & ACCOLADES

2021 ~ 93 Points. "The 2021 Aglianico del Vulture Synthesi punches well above its weight with a classic bouquet of musky currants, sagebrush, crushed ashen stones and lifting hints of pine. Ripe wild berry fruits sweep across the palate with crisp mineral tones and violet inner florals, while zesty acidity maintains fantastic balance. Long and gently tannic, the 2021 leaves a staining of tart raspberry. This represents great value and should age beautifully for many years to come." - Eric Guido - Antonio Galloni's Vinous, May/2026

2021 ~ 91 Points. "Rich ruby red colour with brownish edges. Dried violets, lilac and sour cherry on the nose. Mediterranean herbs and blood orange on the finish. Juicy on the palate with noticeable tannins. Ageing potential." - Othmar Kiem & Simon Staffler - Falstaff, Oct/2025

2021 ~ 90 Points. "The nose pops with aromas of ironrich soil, raspberries, pepper, and mixed wild herbs. The palate brings a similarly playful combo of tangy, tart and sweet, with more earth and herbs underneath, while slick, polished tannins balance out lively acid." - Danielle Callegari - Wine Enthusiast, Aug/2026

OTHER INFO

The vineyards are located at 450/600 mt above sea level. Vinification is done in the classic style, grapes are treading and destemmed, maceration occurs on the skins in stainless steel for 10 days at 25/28 °c, during this period several pumping overs and delestages are carried out. The wine is finished 80% in large Slavonia oak barrels and 20% in French barriques. Further bottle ageing occurs for 7/8 months.
