TASTING NOTES

Colour: Intense inky violet.

Aroma: Opens with herbal and spice notes which lead into an intense expression of fresh red fruit and berries with subtle layers of oak, dark chocolate and liquorice.

Taste: Medium-bodied and well-structured with lively, vibrant acidity which lends it a fresh, juicy mouthfeel with smooth tannins and a long finish.

Food: Pair this wine with grilled lamb, hearty beef stew, pork sausage, roasted chicken, and rich game meats.

AWARDS & ACCOLADES

2022 ~ 93 Points. "Terroir Hunter is always one of Chile's best value wines and this Carmenere from Peumo is no exception. Deliciously fragrant with the classic roasted-pepper nose and ripe red fruit notes. The violet lift, silky tannins and fresh finish ensures it manages to be warming and autumnal, yet also vibrant and balanced." - Amanda Barnes - Decanter, Jul/2024

2021 ~ 91 Points. "Lively and appealing for the floral and blood orange entry, while traces of cassis and peppercorn appear on a richly textured core of plum and black cherry. Ends with notes of dark chocolate and firming tannins. Drink now through 2028. 5,500 cases made, 650 cases imported." - Aaron Romano - Wine Spectator, May/2023

2020 ~ 94 Points. "Peumo's clay slopes beside the Cachapoal River and the valley's intense sun produce some of Chile's most emblematic carmeneres... a wine with liqueur-like tones accompanied by touches of herbs and spices. The tannins have a certain reactivity, but the sensation on the palate is that of a voluptuous, big, and generous wine. A typical example from the warm 2020 vintage." - Descorchados 2023

2020 ~ 93 Points. - Tim Atkin MW, Chile Special Report 2022

2020 ~ 91 Points. "This carmenere is full bodied and displays notes of cherry and red plum contrasting herbs and coffee on a fresh palate. Lively acidity and supple tannins make an enjoyable mouthfeel. A lasting finish exhibits hints of peppercorn." - Wine Enthusiast, Dec/2022

OTHER INFO

The grapes come from a specially chosen vineyard in Peumo, on the western side of the Cachapoal Valley, an area known for producing the best Carmenere wines in Chile. The Peumo area in particular enjoys a climate that is quite apt for Carmenere. Its latitude ensures high temperatures throughout much of the grape ripening period but its proximity to the coast also exerts a mild influence, with soft breezes on summer afternoons that enable the grapes to better conserve their acidity, resulting in a wine with fresher flavours and aromas.
